

CATALOG PRODUCTS

This is a summary of products which have appeared in Upjohn catalogs, including Edition No. 52, dated May 1, 1950.

The entries are arranged in alphabetical order according to the most recent catalog title. Former titles appear indented directly under the entry. The tablet and pill sections are preceded by a cross-reference to align the former titles with the entry titles. The center column classifies the products. The last column shows the period of appearance of the product in the catalog, arranged to apply significance to length of time on the market. Granules manufactured up to 1898 appear in a separate list preceding the pill section.

Fluid Products, Ointments, Suppositories and Extracts are arranged in a single alphabetical group to show in many instances that various dosage forms have the same drugs in common.

The first section is a list of the products in Catalog Edition No. 52, dated May 1, 1950, showing the year of first catalog appearance. The following current catalog products have appeared continuously since 1886 (introduced as Hypodermic Granules):
